ABOUT DIVA

In recent years, vending machines have become a popular means of providing convenient access to a variety of products. One product that is increasingly being made available through vending machines is sanitary pads. This is particularly important in developing countries where access to menstrual hygiene products is limited. Diva Sanitary pad vending machine is a great way to provide girls and women with access to menstrual hygiene products. They can be installed in offices, schools, colleges, and public places, making it easy for girls and women to purchase sanitary pads whenever they need. In our country many girls miss school and female employees miss office because they don't have access to sanitary pads during their periods. By installing Diva SPVM, all of them can have access to sanitary pads, and their work life won't be interrupted.

"I'm especially encouraged and happy that on the day of World Pharmacist Day Headless Technologies has generously provided us with a Diva Sanitary Pad Vending Machine that has been placed in the NSU Model Pharmacy. Our female students and staff and to sum extend even the faculty members are shy to bring out several things that are actually very important specially the menstrual cycle or the menstruation which is the regular part of a female person. Now with the help of Headless Technologies and the Diva Sanitary Pad Vending Machine, our students and All female staff and faculty members will be able to get the sanitary napkin when they need, without asking any person. I wish the females will go further and further and they will equally contribute to the overall development of the country as well as the world."

I am extremely glad that we could introduce an effective technology that facilitates maintaining menstrual hygiene for the young girls of our community. The Diva Sanitary Pad Vending Machine stands as a beacon of convenience and support for women everywhere. Beyond mere convenience, these machines play a pivotal role in promoting menstrual hygiene, ensuring that brings a sansonfidently and comfortably manage their menstrual cycles. This vending machine brings a sense of empowerment, eliminating the discomfort and anxiety of uncertain periods caught without supplies. Moreover, by being strategically placed in public spaces, they break down barriers, making menstrual products readily available, erasing stigmas, and fostering a culture of inclusivity. The benefits ripple through society, impacting education and workplace productivity by ensuring that menstruation doesn't hinder attendance or performance. The Diva Sanitary Pad Vending Machine is not just a convenience; it's a vital step towards gender equality, affirming that menstrual hygiene is a basic right, not a luxury. I believe that this innovation will take our women a further step toward success and, contribute to the digitalization of Bangladesh.
